THE HALL OF YOUR HOME.

If a Hall Chest is as yet a stranger to your home you should introduce it with the least possible delay, for as a valiant friend it is well worth having. You'll wonder how you ever got along without it, once it's installed in the hall. It serves the dual purpose of a seat and a receptacle for "odds and ends." We've tried to picture a special Titus offering in

THE BROAD OAK CHERT

As shown above, but we fail utterly to convey a correct idea of its attractiveness in the dull oak finish which brings out every view of the wood so very clearly.

It stands twenty inches high from the floor and measures thirtyseven inches in width. You'll derive satisfaction worth ten times its cost from its all round helpfulness. $12.00

NOT TO APPEAR TODAY ON HABEAS CORPUS.

Proceedings in Thaw's Case Delayed for Conferences.

Opinion Varies as to Course Immigration Officials Will Follow.

SHERBROOKE, Quebec, August 21.—After an all-night conference, counsel for Harry Thaw announced that they would not produce the Matteawan fugutive in the superior court today on the writ of habeas corpus ordered by the court yesterday. They explained that the writ is returnable at any time, and that, although 10 a. m. today was tentatively agreed upon yesterday, they had decided to delay proceedings pending further conferences. According to present plans, they will use the writ tomorrow morning.

This marking of time by the defense was due mainly to the arrival last night of Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, brother-in-law and sister of the prisoner, who are anxious that no legal steps be taken until every bulwark of the defense has been strengthened. J. D. Greenshields of Montreal, an eleventh-hour addition to Thaw's counsel, pointed out that the writ was returnable at the pleasure of counsel for Thaw and that it would be best to go over his case more thoroughly before coming into court.

The move surprised the immigration officials and District Attorney Conger and Sheriff Hornbeck of Duchess county, New York. They had expected that Thaw would be arraigned before noon today, released on the present commitment, then held as an undesirable alien, and quickly deported. As matters stood this afternoon, apparently this program had simply been put off a day.

With Thaw once in the hands of the immigration authorities, opinion varies as to what course would be followed. One theory had it that he would be returned to Coaticook, where he was arrested Tuesday, and deported from there, if it were proved that he was an undesirable alien, to the nearest border point in Vermont or New Hampshire. Another theory was that counsel for Thaw would try to show that he had a through ticket to Detroit and would demand that he be taken there and released there. A third conjecture was that all the procedure would be transferred to Montreal, where the case would be thrashed out before a special board of inquiry.

Neither Thaw's lawyers, the immigration officials nor officers from the state of New York seemed to know just what the outcome would be. Messrs. Conger and Hornbeck hoped some arrangements could be made whereby Thaw would be taken to the New York state line. On this point the immigration officers were noncommital.

Feverish and worried, Thaw dressed before sunrise today and received Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie as his first visitors. Though apparently cheered by their arrival, their presence seemed to make him more reticent than ever regarding his escape.

Thaw's fellow prisoner, who describes himself as Mitchell Thompson, but has been identified by Conger and Hornbeck as Roger Thompson, driver of the black racing car which whisked Thaw away from the asylum, remained silent in his cell today. Charged with violating the Canadian Immigration laws in assisting a lunatic across the border, Thompson was unable to furnish the $500 bail required and must stay in jail until Friday, when he will have a hearing.

Owing to the errors in the papers committing Thaw to jail, he can stay there indefinitely, because no date for the hearing of his case is mentioned in them. While in jail Thaw is also beyond the power of the immigration department. By allowing Thaw to remain in custody the defense has offset the immigration authorities, who had been confidently waiting for Thaw's release from jail, when they would have pounced upon him and, it is firmly believed, ordered his deportation at once.

Thaw is, of course, resisting removal to the New York state line, because that would entail his immediate re-incarceration in Matteawan. Little importance is attached by the immigration department to the fact that Thaw has a through ticket Detroit, which, it has been contended by the defense, would enable him to proceed out of Canada. The fact that Thaw is a lunatic in the eyes of the country from which he came makes his entrance into the Dominion illegal and gives the immigration authorities authority, once they get hold of him, to detain him or immediately ship him back whence he came.

W. L. Shurtleff, K. C., one of Thaw's lawyers, left for Ottawa last night to confer with the department of the interior. His purpose is believed to be to endeavor to secure a promise from the department that Thaw may select his own destination. If this should result successfully, it was said here this morning, by one of Thaw's counsel, that he might go to South America.

This was another beautiful day in Sherbrooke, crisp cloudless and invigorating. Notwithstanding the ideal weather there was no early gathering of the curious about the court house or the jail.

The summoning of Mr. Greenshields from Montreal to take precedence over all Thaw's other lawyers has served to confirm the impression that the fugitive's relatives so far as possible are taking the conduct of the case out of his hands. Mr. Greenshields is described here as one of the ablest lawyer in the Dominion, who rarely takes a criminal case. He is being assisted by Mr. Shurtleff of Coaticook and Charles D. White and Colonel Harry Fraser both of Sherbrooke. It is said that Thaw knew nothing of the retention of Mr. Greenshields until the attorney arrived here.

The flaw in the commitment on which Thaw was lodged in jail consists not only of omission of a date for a hearing of his case, but also of his status in the Matteawan hospital.

PENROSE RESOLUTION NOT ACTED ON TODAY.

Asks That American Troops be Sent to Mexico.

Emergency Appropriation of $25,000,000 Also Proposed for Protection.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—American troops for police duty in Mexico for the protection of foreign lives and property, and an emergency appropriation of $25,000 to be expended under the direction of the President for that purpose, were proposed in a resolution today by Senator Penrose. He did not ask the Senate to pass his resolution today and it went over.

That a concerted effort on the part of Republicans and Democrats to support President Wilson in his Mexican policy and to carry to the world the definite idea that the President has the full support of the American people at once became apparent. Introduction of the resolution was followed by a general demand on the part of the Republicans, seconded by Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee, for a cessation of all debate and to support President Wilson. Emphatic and concerted declarations from Senators of both parties of their confidence in the wisdom and good faith of the President were made. Lodge, an answer to reports from Mexico that Huerta was contending that the President had a divided Congress and a divided public opinion behind him.

REPORT NOT BELIEVED.

No Confirmation Obtained as to Offer to Huerta for New Loan.

PARIS, August 21.—No confirmation can be obtained here of the report from Mexico City that bankers in Paris and other European capitals have made an offer to Provisional President Huerta to float a new loan of $20,000,000. On the contrary, the report is not believed by the Banque de Paris at Pays Bas, which took a leading part in the previous loan to the Mexican government. The story is also discredited by the banking house of Lazard Freres. The French office continues to take the attitude that it would be unwise for French bankers to lend money to the Mexican government until the United States has recognized the Huerta administration.

While French bankers are not obliged to observe the foreign office's suggestions, it is usual for them to follow hints of this sort.

MAY BE SENT TO MEXICO.

Portsmouth Yard Ordered to Rush Work on Cruiser Montana.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 21.—Orders were received at the navy yard here today to rush work on armored cruiser Montana, which is undergoing her annual overhauling. Double shifts have been put to work and it is expected that the vessel will be ready to sail from the yard the latter part of the month. The Montana's destination is not officially known here, but it is reported that she will be sent to Mexico.

BANDITS FIRE SHOTS AT KING AND QUEEN.

Charles and Elizabeth of Roumania Target for Bullets.

Neither Injured and Automobile Soon Speeds to Safety.

LONDON, August 21.—Revolver shots were fired by bandits today at King Charles and Queen Elizabeth (Carmen Sylva) of Roumania, as they were driving in an automobile near Sinai, a fashionable health resort of Roumania, in the Carpathian mountains, according to special despatches received here. Neither of their majesties was injured. As soon as the firing began the chauffeur of the royal car speeded up his machine and succeeded in carrying the king and queen to safety.

GLYNN MAKES DEMAND.

Asks Canadian Immigration Officials to Surrender Thaw.

OTTAWA, Ontario, August 21.—Formal demand for the surrender of Harry K. Thaw was made by telegraph upon the Canadian immigration authorities here today by Acting Governor Glynn of New York. The department replied that it would take no action till the present extradition proceedings had been concluded. The department let it be known that it would seize Thaw and attempt to deport him should his extradition to the United States be refused by the Dominion courts.

Mr. Glynn's telegram requested that Thaw be turned over to District Attorney Conger, who is now in Sherbrooke representing the state of New York.

The immigration department was prepared for legal assistance by Thaw against its plan to deport him. In this the department believed he would be unsuccessful. It is the present intention of the department to return Thaw to the United States at the point on the boundary line nearest Sherbrooke. This is in New Hampshire.

IN RETURNING THAW.

Immigratin Authorities at Ottawa to Use Every Effort.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 21.—Acting Governor Glynn was advised over the telephone by the immigration authorities at Ottawa this afternoon that they would use every effort in their power to assist in having Harry K. Thaw returned to New York state.

ROUNDING UP WITNESSES.

Canadian Immigration Officials at Colebrook, N. H.

COLEBROOK, N. H., August 21.—Canadian immigration officials were here today rounding up witnesses for the proceedings which will be instituted at Sherbrooke, Quebec, against Harry K. Thaw as an undesirable alien. Deputy Sheriff D. H. Kelsea, who brought about the fugitive's arrest, was asked to be in Sherbrooke at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Kelsea left for Canada this afternoon and expects to tell of the route taken by Thaw after he left Beecher Falls, Vt.

STRACHAN BEATS BUNDY.

Harvard and University of Chicago Win in Interscholastic Series.

Three matches were played in the all-comers' tennis tournament at the Casino Wednesday afternoon, one in the third round and two in the fourth, leaving only two to be played in the fourth. The third-round match was between Thomas C. Bundy and John R. Strachan, both Californians, the former a veteran of four years in the national tourneys and the latter a new-comer. The younger player showed his mettle in fine form, not allowing Bundy a single set, taking the first at 6-2, the second at 6-3 and the third at 6-4. Strachan plays a game much resembling McLoughlin's and is especially strong on the service and smashing.

Maurice E. McLoughlin won his match in the fourth round, defeating W. D. Brownell in straight sets, allowing the later only three games. In the other fourth-round match Leonard Beekman, the Pawlings School boy of New York, won from Williams P. Burden in straight sets, the second going to 7-5 and the others being won at 6-1.

The opening round in the interscholastic championship was played, G. C. Caner, the Harvard representative, defeating Frank W. Hopkins, Yale, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0, and J. H. Weber, University of Chicago, defeating S. A. Cushman Cornell, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The executive committee of the National Association has arranged for a dinner complimentary to the players on the American team for the Davis cup to be given at Delmonico's in New York on the evening of the day following the close of the tournament here. This is a subscription affair and will be open to members of any recognized tennis club.

MAY BUY POLO GROUNDS.

Point Judith Committee Consider Purchase of Property at the Pier.

It was learned Wednesday at Narragansett Pier that the Polo Association, as a means of using for the sake of the game the handsome surplus at hand as the profits of the international matches, has made a tentative offer for the grounds of about 50 acres used for polo at the Pier. The property is a part of the estate owned by the Randolph heirs of Philadelphia, of whom P. S. P. Randolph is the resident member. He is active in amateur sports, particularly polo, golf, steeplechasing and racing, and prior to 1909 outdoor recreations of the summer colony, which included a horse show and racing as well as polo, chiefly rested on his shoulders. In the fall of that year he turned over the control of polo to the specially organized Point Judith Polo Club for five years, free of rental, for the upkeep and push the game. This agreement has still one year to run.

The Point Judith committee consists of R. L. Agassiz, William A. Hazard, who is also secretary-treasurer of the Polo Association; Louis E. Stoddard, P. S. P. Randolph, Robert E. Strawbridge, Joseph B. Thomas and Henry P. Whitney.

It was not outlined that the sale would affect the holding of the future international matches, for the grounds of such contests must be those of the American or English Club holding the trophy.

In acquiring possession the Polo Association would make Point Judith formally what it has been in reality for five years—the acknowledged venue of the American championships. A race course and an annual race meeting under the sanction of the Jockey Club and the United Hunts and Steeplechase Association are part of the project. Besides the establishment of an American Hurlingham or Ranelagh for matches, the Polo Association idea includes the use of available farms in the neighborhood for the breeding of registered polo ponies on the system of the United Hunts of Virginia and for the same object, "for the sake of the game."

The Pier property owners, transient and permanent residents are in favor of the change, especially the establishment of an annual race meeting under high-class auspices. In polo circles the opinion is that the Polo Association, with the cash in hand, might go further and fare worse than to undertake this venture.

P. S. P. Randolph was non-committal as to the status of the project as a business proposition. He admitted that the project has been discussed by those interested and that it may become an actuality.

An assertion in other quarters was that the Polo Association would now be the owner at the asking acreage price, by no means a low one, but for the non-concurrence of one of the heirs. There is consequently a hitch in the negotiations, but at any time the kinks may be unravelled and the papers signed. The hope is entertained that all will be ready for racing next year.

DIGGS FOUND GUILTY.

Californian Convicted of Violating the Mann White Slavery Act.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20.—In eloping with Marsha Warrington from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., Maury I. Diggs, former state architect of California, was guilty of violating the Mann act, which makes it a felony to transport women for immoral purposes from one state to another. This was the verdict tonight of the jury which tried him. Five years in the federal penitentiary is the maximum penalty.

There were six counts in the indictment and the jury found a verdict of guilty on the first four. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years and a minimum of one year in a federal penitentiary.

Sentence will be pronounced a week from Tuesday, September 2. Judge Van Fleet set the bail at $5,000 on each count, making $20,000 in all. I. P. Diggs, the defendant's father, and Marshall Diggs, his uncle, both were ready with bonds in the amount named and United States Commissioner Krull was ready to accept them.

Counsel for the defense announced that they would appeal to the highest court in the land and asked for 10 days in which to petition for a writ of error to the United States circuit court of appeals.

ARMY PROMOTIONS.

Senator Chamberlain Would End the Deadlock on Nominations.

Although attracting little general attention, the determination of the Secretary of War to adhere strictly to the merit system in making promotions and the indignation of Senators because he will not heed political recommendations have operated to hold up for many months the nominations of Colonels Thomas F. Davis of the infantry and John P. Wisser of the coast artillery corps, two of the first military appointments made by President Wilson. The retirement of General M. P. Maus will make necessary another appointment to the grade of brigadier general, and those in the confidence of Secretary Garrison assert that he will fill it in accordance with his policy. Consequently, just when the deadlock will end cannot be foretold.

Secretary Garrison takes the ground that in a purely military organization like the army nothing but merit should be considered in making promotions, and that the sole consideration of the appointing powers should be the efficiency of the forces—all the more so in a country like this, where the total military organization is so small. Members of Congress, and especially Senators, who have the power to confirm or reject military nominations, insist that substantial weight should be given to the recommendations and bitterly resent the attitude of the Secretary of War.

One of the leaders of the opposition to Mr. Garrison was the late Senator Johnston of Alabama, who recommended for the two existing vacancies Colonel Robert L. Bullard of the Twenty-sixth infantry and Colonel William T. Rossell, recently appointed chief of engineers. Representative Underwood also took a determined stand against the policy of the Secretary, and so did Senator Williams of Mississippi. The death of Mr. Johnston has resulted in making Senator Chamberlain of Oregon chairman of the military affairs committee. He shares the views of his predecessor, but is disposed to be less aggressive in his fight.

Senator Chamberlain is understood to feel that there has been sufficient delay in the confirmation of Colonels Davis and Wisser to call for a demonstration of Senatorial displeasure, and will probably sanction a favorable report on their nominations in the near future. However, if Secretary Garrison follows his determination in filling the vacancy caused by the retirement of General Maus, there may ensue further and more emphatic evidence of hostility.

PORTSMOUTH.

Island Park Fire Department Organized and Chemical Machine Installed.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

A large number of cottage residents at Island Park responded to a call to meet at the home of Commissioner Joseph A. Parks to organize a fire department and evinced much enthusiasm in the matter. The recent fires at the Park and the Hummocks stirred anew the desire of the residents and property owners for fire protection, although the question has been more or less agitated since the numerous fires of earlier dates.

In consultation they decided to apply to the Bay State Railway Company for apparatus, although aware that the company was under no obligation to give it, but willing on their part in return to protect the company's property with it when necessary. Through Superintendent Donahue of the Newport division, who actively interested himself in the matter, a Badger chemical machine has been purchased and installed. It is a two-wheeler, with one tank, carries 200 feet of hose and will throw a stream 75 feet in the air. Two 16-foot ladders and a number of hand chemicals also form the equipment. The chemical will have hose, which will be used to draw it, if necessary, or for a long run a horse may be attached. The meeting organized by electing Mr. William Freeman chairman, who made a short speech, thanking the railway company and Superintendent Donahue for granting their request and concession in fares.

Superintendent Donahue was called on for a speech and said: We have given the use of the fire apparatus, and if you men will organize and learn how to handle the machine it will be for our mutual benefit. The machine on regular duty at the park will help out.

Mr. James Mills urged that the streets see that waste paper and rubbish are cleaned up, as the collections are a constant menace to property. He thought that he had picked up a dozen of paper thrown on his land recently.

Mr. John Keely suggested that the Portsmouth town council be communicated with, to secure some improvements. He said there are no lights, no sidewalks and no improvements of any kind at Island Park, but plenty of taxes. Later this proposition will be taken up and a conference with the town council arranged.

A motion was made by Commissioner Parks for a vote of thanks to the Bay State Railway Company and a special one to Superintendent Donahue for the courtesy shown.

Officers were elected as follows: Joseph A. Parks, chief; Bernard Fallon, assistant chief; Frank Wash, captain; chief ladderman; Thomas Norman Barker, lieutenants. Other officers will be elected later and will probably include every man in the organization.

Commissioner Parks was chosen chairman of a committee to interview the town council.

Before the adjournment Superintendent Donahue with the cottagers went to Parks to inspect the new chemical with which a station is being built, starting in one of the buildings. It will be placed in the station, and the residents in case of fire. Those prominent in securing the apparatus were Joseph A. Parks, who was leader; William Freeman, Mills and John Cain.

Sergeant Luther P. Chase arrested Greek Wednesday, who had been acting suspiciously near Mr. Joseph C. Sherman's farm, just off Quaker hill. The man was armed with a revolver and a large knife when Mrs. William B. Spooner met him Tuesday. Besides relatives guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and family.

Mrs. G. Bush has gone to Onset, to visit Mrs. J. T. Fynns, whose home is located there.

Miss Lillian Madison of New York is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rivers at the Hummocks.

Mrs. Walter C. Brinkman and her children have returned from a visit of five weeks to relatives in Gardner, Mass.

Mrs. William Bitcliffe is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Boardman and their daughter Ruth of New Bedford and Mrs. Mary Whittel of Providence.

Miss Florence Chase and Miss Bertha Thompson of Providence are guests at the Shay camp.

The choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church had an outing at the Newport Beach Tuesday evening. The Cozy Corner automobile truck carried the party of 10 comfortably.

Mr. William Connell of this town and Mr. David Connell of Fall River are visiting at Island Park.

Miss Margaret Langon is spending her two weeks' vacation in Newport.

Salmon Salad.

Open a can of salmon several hours before it is to be used, turn out the fish, free from skin and bone, drain off all the liquor and break the fish into large flakes. Marinate with a dressing and set aside in a cool place. Have ready a well chilled soup plate. Drop into it the yolk of an egg carefully freed from the white, add a pinch of salt and a dash of cayenne and stir with a silver fork until well mixed. Add olive oil drop by drop, being careful to stir in the same direction, until the mixture is very thick. Add a few drops of vinegar or lemon juice, then more oil and continue adding oil and acid until a cupful of oil has been used. Both lemons and vinegar vary so in strength that no precise quantity can be given, although this amount of oil will usually require one tablespoonful of vinegar or two of lemon juice. When the dressing is smooth and all the oil has been incorporated, set away at once in a cold place. Just before serving arrange on a platter a bed of washed and drained lettuce. On it place the prepared fish, garnish with a part of the dressing and serve the remainder with the salad.

Sweet Omelet.

Break four eggs in a bowl, add two teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar and a tiny pinch of salt and beat just enough to mix well together. Into a very hot frying pan drop one teaspoonful of butter, shake until it is evenly distributed over the bottom of the pan and pour in the eggs. Shake and stir with a flexible knife until the mixture begins to set, then loosen the edges and shake so that it will not stick to the pan. While still soft in the centre spread quickly over it one spoonful of jelly, jam, crushed and sweetened fruit or any filling you wish, roll over and turn out on a hot platter. Dust with a little powdered sugar and score with a hot poker. Put the remainder of the filling round the omelet and send at once to the table.

TO BUILD THE MELVILLE.

Contract Given to Fore River Shipbuilding Company for Destroyer Tender.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels Wednesday signed a contract with the Fore River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy, Mass., for the construction of destroyer tender Melville at the bid of $1,310,000. This vessel was authorized at the last session of Congress. She is designed to serve as a general supply and repair ship for a flotilla of 15 destroyers, and provision has been made for a flotilla commander so that the tender may also serve as flagship. She will carry stores, spare parts and a large reserve supply of torpedoes and ammunition, so that the destroyers will be encumbered as little as possible with weights not required for offensive operations. She will be armed with eight five-inch guns for her own defense.

TO LULLABY TOWN.

[Christian Observer.]

Ready for bed in her long, white gown,
Betty is starting for Lullaby town.
Sweet is the music she hears on the way—
Ready for lullabies, tired of play.
Soft in her carriage, on rockers it goes,
As grandmother counts all the pink little toes.

Each little toe in a vision she'll see.
Safe on her journey on grandmother's knee:
"This is a robin asleep in a tree,
This is a butterfly, this is a bee,
This is a pig, with a lively pink nose,
And this last little one is a tiny white rose."

Ready for bed in her bare, white gown
Safely goes Betty to Lullaby Town,
Soft is her carriage, on rockers it goes,
As grandmother counts all the dear, little toes.
Each one as soft and as pink as a rose.

BIG COAL-CONSUMING CITIES.

New York consumes between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 short tons of coal annually, according to an estimate made by the United States Geological Survey, which places Pittsburgh at the head of the largest coal-consuming cities in the world, with a 10 per cent lead over New York. The Pittsburgh district in 1913, consumed 17,721,783, tons of coke, coal and about 22,700,000 short tons.

The total quantity of coal sent to New York harbor ports for local consumption, for bunker trade and for trans-shipment to coastwise and foreign ports is between 35,000,000 and 40,000,000 short tons. In this respect Pittsburgh again leads New York, with a total of 75,000,000 tons, or twice as much as sent to New York harbor.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union station.

THE HUERTA ROORBACH.

Where did that story of Huerta's ultimatum come from? How did it happen to come, and what are the news agencies going to do about it? If it had been sent out as a mere rumor there would be little to say except that it is not necessary even for enterprising news agents in the City of Mexico to send out every rumor they hear. Instead, it was sent out as a definite fact, and had very much the appearance of being semi-official; that is, obtained from some official source.

There was nothing in the story. Huerta repudiates it and Lind reports that he had had a long conference with the Mexican President, who was cordial. Evidently there was not even a basis for it; it was made up out of whole cloth. Were the news agencies in the City of Mexico imposed upon or were they parties to a brief and baseless sensation?

This is the sort of thing which inspires contempt on newspapers which is mostly unjust. The papers of this country would not have printed that story if they had not supposed it to be true. It was impossible to verify it and the presumptions were in its favor. Yet somebody sat down and invented a sensational story which was liable to embarrass the relations of two nations. The situation between which is already delicate enough.

The inventor is in the wrong field. What he should do is to write fiction or drama. The newspapers are intended to deal with actualities, and the place for romances is elsewhere. It wouldn't be a bad scheme to run this story down to its source and take some action which would discourage the manufacture of fakes and make correspondents a little guarded in sending out mere rumors of governmental action of the most serious character. If the author of the despatch was imposed on a word of caution to him would not be out of place. If he made up that story out of his own head, he ought to be gently transferred from a field where he has to deal with facts and probabilities to one in which he would be at liberty to give his inventive faculties full rein. The publication of rumors is entirely proper, but they should be given as rumors.

INSTRUCTION IN MENTAL HYGIENE.

Last winter there was held in New York a mental hygiene exhibit which was a source of much surprise to many if not the majority of those who inspected the display, because it revealed a prevalence of mental disease in this country unsuspected by them. It was almost if not actually a shock, for instance, to learn that one out of every 200 of the population has had or will have some kind of mental disorder and that the last census showed there were 187,454 insane persons in institutions in the United States. It was disquieting, to speak mildly, to discover that mental disease is increasing in this country and that the number of insane persons in institutions is growing larger every year, instead of being reduced because of cures effected. It was surprising to find that the cost of caring for the patients in these institutions exceeds $72,000,000 every year and that this sum is a conservative estimate. It was disconcerting also to learn that a state like New York, which cares admirably for its insane, devotes approximately one quarter of its total expenditure for that purpose.

These are only a few points revealed in this mental hygiene display, but they suffice to show how important an exhibit it was and how much serious attention needs to be given to this subject and to ways and means to meet the situation and cope with the conditions which seem almost overwhelming. It is evident that the problem is not only one which is pressing for solution, but that it is also of a national character and not to be attacked only in the cities and the states, but also by the federal government, if it is to be adequately treated and the needed improvement made. It is a situation the gravity of which must impress itself upon every one who considers it at all seriously and realizes what it means for the future of the country.

There is, however, an element of hope in this exhibit, at the same time that it carries a sober lesson. The message of encouragement comes from the fact that at last disease of the mind is losing some of its mystery and is regarded in a sensible sort of way. In the past there has been too much of the feeling that such disease was a visitation of Providence from which there could be no relief and that it was useless to attempt to do anything to effect a cure. Now, however, it is realized that mental trouble is as much a disease as any physical ill and should be treated in much the same way, with variations of course to meet the needs of the mind rather than the body. There is, too, strong encouragement in the new view that it is susceptible of cure much more often than is generally believed and that if properly treated patients can be made better and even entirely cured of their affliction.

All this was set forth at the exhibit, in connection with figures and facts to show the gravity of the situation patients in these institutions exceeds the problem of reducing the number of those afflicted in mind, as well as to remove or mitigate some of the causes of mental disease. Too much emphasis was not placed upon the seriousness of the case, but enough to arouse the people to a realization of the fact that the question is a momentous one and something should be done to make it less so. On the other hand, the hopefulness of the situation was also shown by the emphasis placed on the means of reducing the amount of mental disease, the relief and cure of patients and the possibility of decreasing the causes which have served to bring about this condition in this country almost without the knowledge of the people. The exhibit, therefore, ought to be productive of great good in the direction of centering public attention upon this problem of exceeding gravity and the need of a crusade against mental disease which shall result speedily in marked improvement in the situation.

A EUGENIC MARRIAGE.

It is not necessary to say that healthy parentage is important, because it is obvious enough without saying it. Yet there have been plenty of happy marriages with healthy offspring where the parents were not athletes, or even free from some physical disabilities. This, though, is an age of fads of any and every sort, and the fad of eugenics and eugenic marriages is one of the most vociferous of all. The failure of one of these scientific unions in Massachusetts within 30 days of the wedding may suggest a few wholesome thoughts to some of the enthusiasts.

This marriage in Lynn was the more notable as an achievement in eugenics because it was performed by a clergyman who is an enthusiast on the subject. A young man and young woman who passed the necessary physical inquest were united in healthy and eugenic matrimony by a Congregational minister who thinks that what the human race needs is more attention to breeding. In less than a month the husband rushed to the police station with a story of an assault by a man whom he found with his wife, and she denied the story and made a good alibi, and the couple are very far apart. The honeymoon was barely over when this scientific union resolved itself into its original elements. We are told that clergymen and physicians are wagging their heads over this mishap and remarking that "man is something more than a mere animal; that he is a being, with a mind, a soul and a temperament."

He is also a being with a temper. If a man and a woman are to live together permanently the well-being of their posterity as well as of themselves depends more on their character and disposition and feeling for each other than on being sound in wind and limb, according to the usual form of eugenic certification in the case of domestic animals. A clergyman whose relations to a charitable society bring him into close contact with happy and unhappy marriages says: "We are not dealing with horses, cows or dogs, but with a problem that has to do with spiritual beings." Let the eugenic faddists fix that fact in their minds. Health is important, but is no sort of substitute for character and affection.

President Huerta's reply to President Wilson's note regarding Mexican affairs is not very courteous, if all reports are true. It is said that the letter intimates that President Wilson is not backed by Congress or the American people in his stand against recognition of the Huerta government and holds that there is good cause to argue that, the Democratic party being only temporarily in power, the recognition of his government is only a partisan question in the United States. This is a strange position for one foreign government to maintain regarding another's policy, and is not likely to help Huerta's case. Whichever party is in power in the United States is regarded by the people as the government and any such intimation as that reported to have been made by Huerta will be strongly resented by the American people.

Governor Sulzer is announced to stump New York city in behalf of the fusion municipal ticket, and promises to tell something of Boss Murphy's career and the Tammany methods. He can be counted upon to do all he can to defeat the organization which has ruled him down. The governor is anxious to talk and is chafing under the restraint which his legal counsel has placed upon him. He tells his friends that the hardest part of the situation is his inability to talk while his opponents have all the publicity in attacks which he is not allowed to answer. Probably his counsel are wiser than he, and the less he says the better.

It is eminently fitting that the state of Rhode Island and the city of Newport should be well represented at the celebration of Perry's Victory at Put-in-Bay, but it would hardly seem to be necessary that the entire membership of both houses of the General Assembly, the governor, lieutenant governor, general officers and other officials, so numerous as almost to denude the state of its entire list of men in public life, should be present on that occasion. There is reason in all things.

The Senate Democrats evidently expect the House to pass the currency bill now under consideration in the caucus, as they are discussing possible changes when it is taken up by them. Up to the present time, however, the House Democrats have not come to any agreement and there is apparently no prospect of an understanding. The insurgents may be whipped into line yet, however.

Kansas is to build artificial ponds for the storage of water from the winter and spring rains, to tide the farmers over such droughts as have menaced the state during the past three weeks. Governor Hodges will designate a "pond week" in September and hopes to see 100,000 ponds, averaging at least an acre in area, built in the state.

A Connecticut man who died this week, in his ninety-ninth year, had the distinction of having voted for 19 Presidents, including William Henry Harrison, the hero of Tippecanoe, and last year drove 12 miles to cast his vote for Taft.

It looks as if the Thaw family were anxious to play a waiting game up in Canada.

WOULD EXTEND PLUCKING.

Captain Fechtler Favors the Inclusion of Rear Admirals.

With Captain A. F. Fechtler, president of the board of inspection and survey of ships, as the first witness, the House naval committee Wednesday began hearings on the proposed naval personnel legislation. No personnel bill is now pending before the committee, but Representative Lemuel P. Padgett of Tennessee, the chairman, will introduce one as soon as the hearings are over and he has consulted with Secretary Daniels on the subject.

Captain Fechtler approved in the main the personnel bill recommended during the last administration by Mr. Meyer, then Secretary of the Navy. He advocated also that the "plucking board" be authorized to "pluck" rear admirals, instead of stopping at captains, as at present. He recommended that there be six vice admirals in the navy.

Rear Admiral Thomas B. Howard, president of the naval examining and retiring boards, also was present, and was asked a few questions. He will be heard at greater length next week.

AFTER THE MOTOR BOATS.

Representative Lawton Shows How Noiselessly His Craft Can Run.

Other Owners Without Mufflers Notified by the Sheriff That Law Must Be Obeyed.

The attorney general's office having given an opinion that the enforcement of the power boat muffler law was the business of the sheriff's office Sheriff Anthony began action in that line. First he was confronted by the fact that the proper enforcement of the law would call for some expenditure, and Wednesday he received authority to expend such small sums as might be necessary. Then he started out and at night Deputy Sheriff F. L. DeBlois saw a number of motor boat owners.

He thought he would hit the high points first, and as there had been some talk that Representative Fletcher W. Lawton had a motor boat without a muffler he went for him first only to discover that Mr. Lawton had not only a muffler but a water cooler before the muffler was reached. He also had an under-water exhaust, but this he found reduced the power of his motor so greatly as to be impossible of use. He had a cover for his motor to shut off the noise, and generally his boat seemed to fully comply with every reasonable requirement. To show the deputy sheriff just how far off his boat was absolutely noiseless he took him in a small boat over to the breakwater light, where, in the silence which marks the spot except when launches are passing, the slightest sounds are noticeable. Then he ran the motor boat over toward Briggs wharf and he had not run it very far before the noise of the machinery was lost.

This case is referred to at some length because there has been talk about this particular boat. There are others, however. Mr. DeBlois found two Greek boats without mufflers, but mufflers had been ordered through J. T. O'Connell and will be here in a few days, when they will be installed. The attention of the Standard Oil and one water boat handler was called to the fact that less noise would be acceptable. Both have mufflers, but they seem to be noisy mufflers. There is one boat, owned down town, which was not inspected, because it was out.

Deputy Sheriff DeBlois found what many already knew, that the government boats make a great deal of the noise heard in the harbor.

M'DERMOTT—O'NEILL.

Miss Margaret O'Neill of this city and Mr. Arthur B. McDermott of San Francisco were united in marriage Wednesday evening at St. Mary's rectory, Father Meenan performing the ceremony. Miss Marie O'Neill, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid and Mr. Peter O'Neill, brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony a supper was served at the home of the bride on Kilgar court to relatives only, on account of the death of the bride's mother. Later Mr. and Mrs. McDermott left on the boat for a three weeks' wedding trip.

BIG EXCURSION FROM NEW LONDON.

The large steamer City of Lowell docked at Long wharf today at 1:50, with a passenger list of about 1,000 persons. The boat came from New London, but several large cities were represented in the throng of excursionists which poured off. Shortly after she had docked Long wharf became so congested that one would think it were Thames street. The street was lined with carriages loaded with excursionists and the north sidewalk was jammed with those who did not ride. The crowds, however, did not loiter, but hurried toward the beach and the street was soon cleared. The boat leaves on its return trip to New London at 4 o'clock, so the visitors have but a short time in this city.

Neighborhood Loan Exhibit Brings Out a Valuable Collection.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

End weather and many social events having combined to detract somewhat from the attendance at the lawn party and exhibition of antiques held in July at the home of Miss Emma Chase, Mitchell's road, it was decided to repeat the affair on an enlarged scale in August, making it a neighborhood loan exhibit. This was held Wednesday afternoon, with a good attendance.

The collection, which was a valuable one, was extensive and interesting and was arranged with much skill. As one entered the glassed piazza, the draperies and wall decorations were found to be hand-woven light-weight blankets, foreign and domestic shawls and scarfs, and "coverets;" also a fanciful and elaborate rag carpet, which was used in "the great room," which was made in squares with appliqued figures. One side of the piazza was devoted to fine needlework, including women's caps of a great variety of styles and materials. A man's black satin stock, in the vicinity of 100 years old, was said to be a duplicate of those now in vogue. Old fashioned clothing and furniture, including a Windsor Chair 200 years old, completed this department.

Entering the house, at the right the dining room was found to be full of china (the oldest a Delft set of 1650), lustre ware, glass, silver, pewter and britannia. These were displayed in cabinets and on the sideboard. Old prints and mirrors adorned the walls. The centre of the room was occupied by a round table with hand-woven linen cloth, old china and silver, and the two-tined, bone-handled steel forks with knives.

Refreshments were served here, including sandwiches, cake, fancy wafers, and tea, or one could purchase separately and be seated at two smaller tables.

Between the dining room and the kitchen a closet disclosed a collection of ancient china and a noticeable assortment of old pitchers and water jugs. The two remaining rooms included first a collection of elaborate fans, old watches and daguerreotypes, and in the second apartment old books and newspapers, curious paper "cut-work", quill pens, silhouettes, foot-stoves, warming pans and andirons.

The lower hallway held an ancient clock, chintz draperies, mounted sampler, embroidered foot-rest, and a "carpet bag". In the upper hall was an Esquimaux collection, loaned by Rev. F. W. Goodman; a set of Japanese coins, ancient pottery, unbleached cloth window draperies 125 years old, and several dresses, two of Quaker simplicity and one quite elaborate. There was also a large collection of bonnets and a man's ancient "beaver". The stair railings and walls were ornamented with hand-woven counterpant. A bed room contained many ancient fittings, the coverlet, towels and stand covers being of hand-woven linen.

A cake table was conducted by Mrs. I. Lincoln Sherman, Misses Katherine Coggeshall and Edith Chase acted as waitresses in the dining room, and Mrs. John Elliott served tea. The entrance fees were taken by Miss Norma Coggeshall.

While the main body of the collection was the property of Miss Emma Chase, a variety of articles were loaned by neighbors and also by members of St. Mary's and Holy Cross Churches. The proceeds were for the choir guild fund.

Mrs. Amos Peckham and her daughter of Jamestown have been recent guests of Mrs. Lincoln Sisson.

Mrs. Howard Bailey of New Bedford, formerly of Middletown, is visiting her sister, Miss Etta M. Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherman of Mitchell's road are entertaining Mr. Sherman's brother, Mr. Chester Sherman, and wife of Hope Valley.

Senator and Mrs. Joel Peckham are entertaining visitors this week to view that night-blooming Cereus, which presented its first flower Wednesday evening. The blossom opens about 7 o'clock and closes before light the next morning, each blooming but for one night and then dying. The flowers are large and of peculiar beauty.

WILLIAMS WINS IN FOUR SETS.

Match Against Johnston Full of Good Play by Both and Much Uncertainty.

All the Other Big Players Easily Victorious, Brown Making Good Stand Against W. F. Johnson.

The feature of the national lawn tennis tournament at the Casino today was the match in the fourth round between R. N. Williams, 2d., of Harvard and William M. Johnston of California, played on the championship court before a gathering of spectators which nearly filled the two grand stands. There was not so large a crowd as watched the doubles championship match Wednesday, and nearly all found seats in the stands, with only a few standing at the end of the court. The weather was the best of the tournament, even better than that of the day before, which many thought ideal for tennis.

This match was specially interesting, with excellent tennis by both young players and enough uncertainty as to the result to give the spice of variety and maintain the interest throughout. Williams and Johnston [illegible] many similar strokes, both are active and energetic, and quick to take advantage of any weakness on the part of the man across the net. It was a great match, hard-fought from beginning to end, and although Williams was generally the better of the two he made several slumps at critical times and thus prolonged the play. The match went to four sets, Williams winning by the score of 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

The match was started at 11:15, Williams serving. There was at once a burst of speed which promised a [illegible] contest, and this promise was thoroughly fulfilled. Williams won the first game, and Johnston also won on his service. In the third Williams scored two service aces and there was a long rally in which both players made some wonderful returns of difficult balls. Williams won this then Johnston took two and Williams ran out the set with four games in succession. The points were:

Williams	6	2	4	3	1	4	4	4	4—32—6
Johnston	4	4	1	5	4	1	2	1	2—24—3

In the second set Johnston obtained a lead of 3 to 1, when there came a long deuce game, which Williams won on Johnston's errors, most of them being outs. The Philadelphian took the next two games by running in at every opportunity and making some beautiful kills. The seventh was another long deuce game, which finally went to Johnston. Then Williams followed by winning a love game and [illegible] after made the match two sets [illegible] by running out. The score.

Williams	4	1	3	10	4	4	8	4	1	4—43—6
Johnston	2	4	5	8	1	1	10	0	4	1—36—4

In the third set Williams weakened, [illegible] while there were spots of good [illegible] in his play his slump was decidedly marked. Johnston took advantage of this and won the set. There was one long game, the fifth, in which Williams seemed to have come back, and he won on Johnston's service, largely on placees and two double [illegible]. Williams also took the next game, continuing his fine playing, but there he slumped again, and Johnston ran out the set, 6-3. The points were as follows:

Johnston	4	3	4	4	5	0	4	4	4—32—6
Williams	0	5	1	1	7	4	2	1	2—23—3

The fourth set developed some of the best tennis of the day. Williams won [illegible] straight games on beautiful play, the second being the best of all. There were eight points in this game, and five of them were made on places, [illegible] by Williams and one by Johnston. Johnston took the next three games, and from that point the score alternated on service. Williams had the advantage each time and on several occasions was within a point of the set and match, but Johnston was playing [illegible] and brought the play to [illegible] again. In the eleventh game Williams won on his service, making [illegible] places, and the twelfth was one of the most hotly contested of the match. Johnston made three fine [illegible] near the back court line, but Williams came back with three as [illegible] winning the last two points on places. The points:

Williams
5 5 4 4 1 3 6 1 4 5 4 6 4 6-58-7
Johnston
3 5 1 6 4 5 4 4 3 7 2 8 2 4-55 5

The other matches of the day were between John R. Strachan and Charles M. Bull, Jr., in the fourth round and six in the fifth round. The young Californian beat Bull easily in straight sets. That between [illegible] Beekman, the Pawlings schoolboy, and F. W. Cole went to [illegible] sets, Beekman winning. N. N. Niles won from George P. Scene from "Quo Vadis," at Freebody Park Next Week.

QUO VADIS AT FREEBODY.

History, Romance and Tragedy Will be Blended in Photo Drama.

History, romance and tragedy are blended into one in George Kleine's photo drama reproduction of Henry Sienkiewcz's celebrated story, "Quo Vadis," which will be presented in Newport for the first time next Monday evening at Freebody Park, for a week's engagement, with matinees every day thereafter. This, considered the most marvelous achievement yet in photo drama, has created a sensation at the Astor Theatre in New York, at Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, where the pictures are being presented to crowds at every performance. For scope, magnitude, splendor and liberality, these pictures have never been equalled and carry an appeal to every community. They entertain and instruct at the same time.

The story of Vinitius's love for the Christian maid Lygia is related with remarkable fidelity, and the companion picture of his friend Petronius's great passion for his handsome slave, Eunice, is also faithfully shown. The trials of the early Christian martyrs, the vain and cruel temperament of the wicked tyrant Nero and his courtiers, which were so graphically drawn by the author, are illustrated on the screen with veracity and even those who have never read the book can comprehend the whole story from the pictures.

Episodes which stir the mind to wonder and make the blood surge rapidly are pictorialized. The gladiator combats, the chariot races, the burning of Rome, the devouring of the Christians by the lions, the marvelous feasts of Nero, the stirring conquest of the wild bull by the giant slave Ursus, the gathering of the Christians in the catacombs and the appearance of the Saviour to Peter are all shown with detail. The best talent of the Italian stage was used in the building of the picture. Mr. Kleine has spared no pains or expense to equip this production with every artistic attribute.

RUSH TO SEE TENNIS.

Crowds Come by Automobile and Regular Travel For the Doubles Match.

It is agreed that, viewed from all points, the rush to see the doubles match in the tennis tournament Wednesday was the greatest in the history of the Casino. People who left Narragansett Pier at 8 o'clock were glad to be able to cross the ferries in three hours, so great was the number of automobiles. One man from the Pier said his was one of 48 trying to come over on one trip of the ferryboat. From Wickford and that section came many on the General. By automobile they came from all the summer resorts, as far away as the Cape, and from cities even farther. Despite the additional seating accommodations provided this year they were wholly unequal to the demands.

Not since automobiles became the fashion have as many crossed the ferry between Jamestown and Newport and from Saunderstown in one forenoon as came Wednesday. Besides the regular travel seemingly every automobile on the island and at Narragansett was on the way to attend the tournament. As early as 9 o'clock the team space on the ferryboats was far too limited to carry all who wished to go. At 9:30 as many were left behind as were taken by the Conanicut and at 10 o'clock the line extended from the ferry gates around the corner at the Bay View and within a short distance of the postoffice, almost a quarter of a mile in length. When the Narragansett had loaded there were 21 machines still left and these were soon augmented by arrivals from the west bay boats.

Most of the occupants of the cars, however, left their machines and took the ferry, to be in time for the tennis, and these with the hundreds from the island on their way on foot made it one of the busiest times the ferry ever experienced. As a whole the crowd was very considerate, inclined to demand only fair treatment, and the ferries were thereby able to keep within 5 minutes of schedule time.

At 12:30 the last machine in the line was nearly reached and at 1:30 the dock was cleared for the first time. At that hour many were returning and the 1 o'clock ferry from Newport went back loaded.

It is evident that a new interest has been stirred up in the tennis world, and outside, by the international character of the play for the Davis cup and a desire to see the men who brought back that cup in competition with the world has taken many not personally tennis players to the Casino to see them in action. This interest has been so great that members of the Casino were especially pleased at the great gathering on the grounds Wednesday and some predicted that this made it certain that the Casino would take advantage of the opportunity to acquire the Ocean House site for an addition to the present grounds.

START OF THE FIFTY-FOOTERS.

The seven New York 50-footers went outside this afternoon for the first of the three days' racing under the Newport Yacht Racing Association. The wind was light from the northeast early, then shifted to southeast, and later worked around to about due south. It was very light and the air was hazy, conditions not good for a first-class race. A number of steam yachts went out to see this new class come together by themselves for a real contest.

CARING FOR ANIMALS.

Rescue League and Humane Education for Children Advocated for Newport.

At the home of Mrs. David Nevins on Catherine street Wednesday afternoon, before the members of the Newport Humane Research Club, Mrs. Huntington Smith spoke on the Animal Rescue League of Boston, which she founded 14 years ago. It now has [illegible] houses and 25 employes and cares for every sort of animal. People are not urged to support this work because they are fond of cats and dogs, but for the sake of throwing out the superfluous, mangy and uncared-for animals. In the poorer districts of Boston cats and dogs are often ill-treated and Mrs. Smith provides prizes for the children for rescues. Where one person works for animals thousands today are working for children.

The caring for animals is a matter of humane education for children, hygiene and humanity. In a well conducted shelter the animals are taken and kindly treated until they are put to death. A hospital for horses has been provided and a receiving station for cats and dogs. Stories in leaflet form are given children in the neighborhood who bring in stray cats. Through this work suffering is relieved and the children are taught to be kind to animals and to each other. In every town and city there should be a good shelter, which might be an educational centre as well as a rescue. The cats, dogs and horses are instantly killed, largely by electricity, cages having been invented by Mr. Huntington Smith. If a Newport Animal Rescue League can be started in Newport Miss Codman will present the cages, which are sent for from everywhere.

When one takes his own animals to the League to be disposed of he should pay for such disposal. Stray animals should not be paid for, however. All dogs are kept in the refuge five days before they are killed. Mrs. Smith advocates strongly the establishment of a Rescue League here, with membership fees of $1 to $5. She has offered to give the leaflets and cards for the children. It is possible that the work may be started here as a branch of the Newport Humane Research Club, in combination with the Newport Animal Refuge League, still in existence but in an unsatisfactory condition, or as a separate organization.

RECORD CROWDS AT THE DORAN SALE.

Wednesday is reported as a record-breaker at the store of the M. J. Doran Co. The semi-annual markdown and clearance sale in progress for four days opened at 9 o'clock and long before that hour women lined the sidewalk waiting for the doors to open. Besides the regular staff of clerks, 25 extra were hired for the four days, and three additional cashiers were placed on the floors in order to help out the Lamson system. So great was the crowd that at 12 o'clock the store had to be closed for the dinner hour. At 1.30 another crowd was admitted and at 5:45 the store closed its door after the biggest day's business in its history.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.

Wilson's Offers to Hurry Vote on Tariff Bill Not Accepted by Democrats.

Pressure Brought to Bear to Compel Action on the Woman Suffrage Amendment.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, August 20.—The administration is marching steadily forward in the direction of financial legislation. Sugar coated offers of hurrying a vote on the tariff bill are not accepted by the Democrats from those who want to postpone currency legislation. The men in Congress might be willing to postpone, but the man in the White House is driving ahead.

It is not because there are strong objections to the proposed currency legislation, but because most of the men in Congress object to staying here in Washington all summer and fall, that causes so much opposition to taking up financial legislation. Of course there are men who are very much opposed to the administration bill, but the principal objection is to the continuous sessions of Congress.

Woman suffrage advocates are insisting that Congress shall take action now on the proposed amendment to the constitution allowing women to vote. The assert that equal rights are more important than either the tariff or currency. Consequently they have been bringing extra pressure to bear to secure action at this session.

And yet, Senator Ashurst of Arizona, one of the strongest advocates of woman suffrage, who has the resolution in charge, says that he prefers to bring it up later, when it will be stronger than now. The Senators know that it would be impossible to get consideration of the resolution at the special session and it is doubtful whether favorable action will result even when it is taken up.

In causing the withdrawal of the name of a negro to be register of the treasury the Southern Democratic Senators showed that the race issue was still alive. Recently Senator Clapp of Minnesota introduced a resolution making inquiry as to the segregation of races in the Postoffice Department, which he alleges will cost $150,000.

Postmaster General Burleson, whose order is questioned, has intense feeling upon the race question. While a member of the appropriations committee even when in the minority, he was able to get through a provision which segregated the races to some extent. It took the women employes of a division from under the control of a negro chief. It is probable that Burleson, so far as possible, will keep the races apart.

Instead of being punctiliously severe in presiding over the Senate Vice President Marshall is mildly tolerant of the confusion and disorder, with an occasional sarcastic comment. "The chair must insist," he remarked the other day when half a dozen Senators were talking at one time, "in the interest of the reporter and not in the interest of the chair, that there shall be some orderly method of procedure. The reporter cannot take a chorus."

I have called attention to the fact that a [illegible] parcel post because some one thought he was going to get the best of that kind of legislation. Here is another absurdity. If you wanted to send a package of grass seed weighing 4½ pounds in the first zone you would be charged 41 cents; if you called it bird seed it would cost 10 cents. Congressman Kindel of Colorado brought this matter out in the House the other day. That was where some grass seed people were able to get what they wanted.

There were no less than three "personal explanations" in the Senate on one day recently. Senator Sheppard of Texas explained about printing a long list of Mexican rebel forces in the Record. Senator Kern explained that he meant no offense to the great body of American navy officers when he referred to a certain set of "perfumed navy officers."

Senator Lewis explained that he was not the author of the bill for "fathers' day," which really belonged to Congressman Lewis of Maryland. The Illinois Senator further explained that he did not make a speech presenting woman suffrage petitions, but that the splendid remarks attributed to him were those of Senator Lane of Oregon. It was quite a day for "explanations."

Just at a time when all eyes are turned toward Mexico John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union, comes forward with a "Handbook on Mexico," containing about all the known information that can be found concerning that distracted republic. President Wilson has found Barrett's book of great value in studying conditions in Mexico.

"NAT" CHURCH'S DINNER.

Successful Clambake Served to Fortunate Friends at "Nanaquaket."

Thirty-one guests were present Wednesday at the annual clambake of Captain "Nat" B. Church. The bake was held at his home, "Nanaquaket," at Tiverton, and was one of the most successful of the many the captain has served to his friends at this time each season.

Thirty-one invitations were issued for the affair, and none of those fortunate enough to receive one thought for a moment of declining it. The guests came from New York, Boston, Fall River, New Haven and Providence, and began to assemble before noon. When they arrived they found a luncheon of little-neck clams and the rest of the "fixings" ready for them.

When the dinner was served it was placed on a large round table in the boat house, and which comfortably seated all the guests. That the bake was fully up to the standard of previous years was shown by the manner in which the guests attacked the food placed before them. The party broke up in the late afternoon, after those from out of town had voted that, as a host, Captain "Nat" is in a class by himself.

MAJOR LORD "JUMPED."

Selected for Promotion to Lieutenant Colonel.

Major Herbert M. Lord, paymaster in the army quartermaster corps, has been selected for promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel, to fill the vacancy which in the ordinary course would have been filled by Major Beecher B. Ray, whose alleged political activities have been discussed before a Congressional committee. The Attorney General recently advised the War Department that it would be legal to "jump" one officer over the head of another.

Major Lord, who is a native of Maine, volunteered during the Spanish war, and later was appointed to the regular service.

MAY GO AS SEPARATE PARTY.

Suggestion of Private Fund to Send the Artillery to Put-in-Bay.

Colonel King Asked to Delay Action Pending Conference in Providence.

Colonel Frank P. King has been requested to see that the Newport Artillery takes no action on the proposed Put-in-Bay trip for a few days, until the situation up the river clears somewhat. There is to be a consultation today between Governor Pothier and members of the two finance committees, which may and may not offer a solution of the trouble.

There is much indignation in this city over the affair since the true situation was learned by reading Wednesday's Daily News, and it is the opinion on all sides that a delegation should not go in place of the company and that the company should assert itself in a positive manner. Such an assertion seems to be feared up the river, judging from the messages received here during the past 24 hours.

Unsolicited, Colonel King had offers of enough subscriptions Wednesday to send the portion of the company not provided for by the vote of the finance committee, but there are questions as to just how this could be done, and a strong feeling that one part of the command should not go at the expense of the state and the other by private subscription.

One way out of the difficulty has been suggested—to raise a sufficient fund to carry the entire company as a separate party and give notice to the various entertaining places that the Newport Artillery is not attached to the state party. Those who are acquainted with situations along the lake shore can see how such an arrangement would leave the state party very much out in the cold.

That the politicians do not admit that the soldiers are what is desired in the West is made clear by one of the committee, who has stated positively that in case many of the legislators decline to go the committee on filling vacancies will not give the National Guard a chance to fill in. The joint committee would haev accommodations for but 150 and has voted to invite 287 persons.

The attorney general was called into conference by the governor Wednesday and seems to think the act as passed by the legislature is rather ambiguous. Hence perhaps he will not back up the governor in the stand he has taken that he is the one to designate what the uniformed force shall comprise.

WHOLE COMPANY MAY GO.

Arrangements Probable for the Entire Artillery at Put-in-Bay.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, August 21.—It looks as if arrangements would be made to have the entire Newport Artillery Company attend the Perry centennial celebration at Put-in-Bay next month. Governor Pothier and the members of the senate and house finance committees will meet this afternoon to make final plans. It is believed that enough vacancies will be found in the original list of those to be invited to allow the full complement of the Newport Artillery to go. Fifty have been designated and it is quite possible that some such arrangement will be made, so that the 40 additional who make up the complement of the company can be provided for. If such an arrangement is made there will be no objection to the entire company wearing the new uniform.

Mr. Max Levy of Newport was in the city today, having a conference with Representative Jacob A. Eaton, one of the members of the house committee.

WALKER TO HAVE CHILDREN.

Granted Temporary Custody Within Limits of the State.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 21.—The Walker divorce case, which has been frequently heard in the Rhode Island courts in various phases was up again today on the petition of Mr. Walker for the custody of his children. Judge Sweeney presided, Mr. Walker being represented by Walter H. Barney of this city and Clark Burdick of Newport and Mrs. Walker by Messrs. Sheffield & Harvey of Newport. After hearing the arguments Judge Sweeney granted Mr. Walker the custody of two children from August 25 to September 1 and of a third from September 1 to September 8, with distinct instructions from the court that they should not be removed from the state.

The De Tefra boy, who was accidentally shot by another lad Wednesday noon, is at the Newport Hospital. It was found, upon examination, that the wound inflicted by the bullet was very slight, it having barely hit the fleshy part of the forearm. It was thought best, however, to send the lad to the hospital to insure proper treatment to prevent complications.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, August 21, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper at 72¾, American Car Foundry 46, American Locomotive 33, American Smelting and Refining 67¾, Anaconda 36¼, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 96, Baltimore & Ohio 97, Canadian Pacific 218⅝, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 106⅝, Erie 28¾, General Electric 146, Missouri Pacific 31½, Northern Pacific 111, Reading 160⅝, Southern Pacific 91, Union Pacific 152⅞, United States Steel 63½, Westinghouse Electric 71½.

Noon—Closing out of short contracts yesterday and the advance in the latter part of the day apparently weakened the technical position of the stock market and, in face of the unfavorable features which the situation presented, traders were not of a mind to support prices. Renewed selling from abroad, particularly of Southern Pacific, was one of the chief influences in depressing quotations. Announcement of a reduction of $2 a ton in Steel billets provoked selling of United States Steel and the heaviness of this stock market favorite affected the entire list, which continued heavy throughout the morning. News from Mexico threw no clear light on the situation there, and resumption of the advance in the corn market was regarded as unfavorable. Southern Pacific fell to 90¼, the lowest since the terms for the sale of the Union Pacific stock were announced. Bonds were irregular. Money on call, steady, at 2¼ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6 @ 6¼ per cent. Exchanges, $291,527,966; balances, $14,839,965.

Mr. Francis George Burke Roche gave a dance at the Golf Club Wednesday evening which was attended by about 400 guests. The ballroom was handsomely decorated with red and white flowers against a lattice background of vines. The smaller rooms, which were used for tete-a-tetes, were similarly decorated in vines and cut flowers. Supper was served in a large marquee tent erected on the lawn and connected with the club house. Mrs. Burke Roche received the guests with her son. Two orchestras furnished music for the dancing, which was continuous from 10:30 until long after midnight, when supper was served. The floral decorations were by Armstrong and Wilmarth had charge of the tent and exterior decorations.

Preceding the dance two large dinners were given, one by Mrs. Burke Roche in honor of her son, Mr. Francis Roche, and the other by Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings, the guests going later to the Golf Club.

STATE ACTION CALLED FOR.

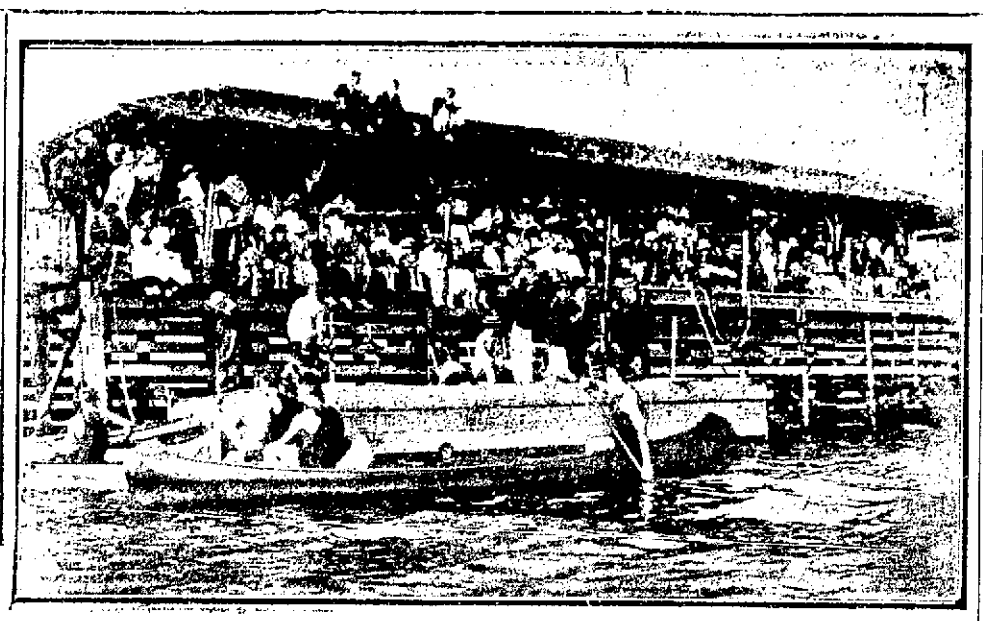

Powers of Public Utilities Commission May be Extended to Include Ice.

Apparently the Public Utilities Commission has held its first meeting for some weeks, for it is announced in Providence that the board has received a letter from City Solicitor Sullivan in relation to the ice situation in Newport and elsewhere. This was written a number of weeks ago, at the instance of the Board of Aldermen when holding the ice hearings, and it asked the support of the commission in an effort to have its powers so extended as to take in necessities of life even as ice and other commodities. If the board gives a favorable reply the Board of Aldermen or the Representative Council may pass a resolution favoring such extension of its powers. The situation this summer in regard to ice seems to call for some action on the part of the state, as it is evident that ice is a necessity which even the poor can not well do without in summer.

CAPTAIN WILLOUGHBY TESTING THE PELICAN III.

Wednesday Captain Willoughby took his hydro-aeroplane Pelican III to the beach at King Park, where he will give the engine some tests and finish some machine work. Then he will give the machine a few days' workout for the engine, running as a hydroplane on the water. Then, if things are working right, he will be ready to fly. Just when he will go up is therefore a problem, but his plans are to have at least two days of surface running before leaving the water. He may begin his surface runs today.

A REAL STRADIVARIUS.

Fine Violin Treasure Being Played by Ar Sin at Freebody Park.

The Stradivarius violin on which Ar Sin, who is one of the features at Freebody Park this week, always plays has an interesting and curious history, being 200 years old. Antonius Stradivarius, the greatest of violin makers, the secret of whose power has never been transmitted, fashioned the instrument in 1712 in memory of his beloved son, and for years it lay on one side, unstrung, silent. Then began the romance described in Ar Sin's little book, "The Story of My Violin," in which the great instrument was stolen from its maker in its native city of Cremona, Italy, and finally, after a series of adventures, was at last happily restored to the over-joyed Stradivarius.

When the great master craftsman died, in 1737, the violin was purchased for a Spanish museum. It remained there 140 years as a wonderful specimen of the work of the greatest violin makers, until the museum in which it had reposed so long was burned to the ground, and as by a miracle, it was snatched from a fiery doom. Money not being forthcoming to re-build the museum, the violin, like a homeless wanderer, was sent to London. Ar Sin saw it at a dealer's, immediately fell in love with it and determined that nothing should prevent him from becoming the possessor of such a magnificent instrument. Soon after, it became his at a cost of 52,000 marks ($13,000.).

Although it had matured and seasoned with age, it never had been played upon until Ar Sin secured it, and was in as perfect condition as when it left the hands of its creator. It is thus not only one of the finest violin treasures of the world, but one of the best preserved. For years it has benefited by the many hours' daily playing of a master who understands and can develop its powers, so that it is now worth vastly more than Ar Sin paid for it, and its value increases annually.

HIKE TO THIRD BEACH.

Boys to Stop at the Hanging Rocks on Their Way to Make Camp.

About 10 o'clock this morning 35 boys left the Basin playground on a hike to the Third beach. Instructors Ward and Wyllie are in charge and are planning to give them as good a time as they had two weeks ago on their trip to Lawton's valley. The hike will be made across the First and Second beaches to the Hanging Rocks, where a stop will be made for about two hours. During this time the boys will be allowed to roam at will up and down the ledges, and there will probably be some interesting explorations, as this place is new to most of them.

When everybody has enough of the Hanging Rocks, the hike will be continued to Third beach, where all will go for a swim and then will set about preparations for their camp. The boys will sleep on the beach in the sand unless it rains. If it rains they will take shelter in the piazzas of some of the shanties along the beach. The return to town will be late Friday afternoon.

ADMIRAL FISKE THE REVIEWING OFFICER.

The weekly battalion drill at the Naval Training Station Wednesday afternoon was witnessed by an especially large crowd. Many who are in town for the tennis visited the Station and the crowd was a fashionable one. The manoeuvres were executed in a highly commendable manner, as is always the case, and there was much applause. Upon the invitation of Captain Roger Welles, Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, who is able to operations at the Navy Department, reviewed the battalion, and was much pleased by the excellent exhibition given by the apprentice seamen.

OLD MEN CHARGED WITH SLEEPING OUT.

The police had two venerable prisoners this morning, charged with sleeping out. One, aged 73 years, was placed on probation; the other, aged 68 years, was sent to the state farm for a year. One young man for being an idle person was placed on probation.

From Tiverton came Officers Grinnell and Potter with two automobile drivers, one of Massachusetts and one of Rhode Island, charged with reckless driving. They pleaded guilty and paid fines and costs amounting to $27.20 each.

Complaint was received Wednesday night that a gang of young men were insulting all passers-by. Officer Buckley was notified and in a short time caught one and brought him in. He and the others of the gang are to report to the station Sunday morning, when the judge will have something to say.

THE CANOE TILTING STRENUOUS.

A Case of In and Out, and Much Skill Necessary to Remain Upright.

Annual Water Sports of Conanicut Yacht Club at Jamestown a Popular Event.

Wednesday afternoon the Conanicut Yacht Club held its annual water sports off the club pier. The weather was a trifle chilly, the northeast wind having an icy feeling for the swimmers after they left the water. Despite the fact that the canvas windshield was set on the pier head many of the spectators felt the cold air and were compelled to withdraw long before the sports were completed, but there were those who stayed to the finish. The number of entries was surprisingly large, every event was well contested and the showing made convinced all that this annual water sports event is something the young people of Jamestown like. They showed that by their attendance and participation.

The club pier had been decorated by the youngsters with signal flags and bunting and looked in festive garb. Off the pier Mr. Lippincott's Lady Betty and Mr. Morris's Ariel were dressed with flags, which the wind kept straightened out all the time. The wind also was responsible for the absence of the usual fringe of boats about the water where the contests took place, as positions could not be maintained.

The sports started at 3 o'clock and it was 6 when the last opposing contestant fell overboard before the energetic push of Mr. Crawford's war club in the canoe tilt and the games were over. Before this the successful contestants had begun to receive their prizes on the clubhouse. Handsome little silver cups had been provided and each was engraved with the name of the sport for which it was given, the name of the Conanicut Yacht Club and the year. They made pretty reminders of a strenuous day, for it was strenuous to those who had been in and out of the water from start to finish.

The contests in the canoe tilting were the most strenuous seen in years. There were five bouts in all, the most interesting perhaps being those between Crawford and Wetherill, and between DuBarry and Saunders, the first-named in each case wielding the long pole and the latter paddling the canoe. The experience of the paddler told and after a spirited contest DuBarry's canoe went over. The event finally came down to the finals, and Crawford's spear broke short off and he went over. This did not count and both spears were cut down to about a wand-like length and the contest resumed. There was fun even when the contestants were not in action, and sometimes a canoe upset when no competitor was near. It was a case of in and out, but in the contests proper considerable skill was shown in maintaining an upright position.

The contests and winners were as follows:

Ladies' double rowing—Misses S. Lippincott and D. Scott, Misses C. Maris and M. Lippincott.

Boys' skiff race—E. Sparrow, R. A. Stearns.

Mixed double rowing—J. C. Hirst and Miss Scott, DuBarry and Miss Lippincott.

Ladies' diving—Miss Eleanor Elmer, Miss H. Hammer, Miss E. Scott.

Ladies' swimming—Miss E. Elmer, Miss R. Scott, Miss S. Lippincott.

Men's single rowing—C. W. Wharton, Jr., J. Wharton, L. G. Mason.

Broom race—C. and F. Strawbridge, J. A. Davis and H. Cole, C. B. Brewster and J. C. Hirst.

Men's swimming—A. Crawford, G. B. Emmons, Jr., F. Strawbridge.

Fancy diving—S. Wetherill, Garnett, Strawbridge.

High diving—S. Wetherill, Emmons, J. P. Strawbridge.

Canoe race—Miss Wright and A. Harkness, L. G. Mason and Garnett.

Canoe tilting—Crawford and Wetherill, Mason and Garnett.

ACT NEW TO PATRONS.

"Huckins Run," a Rural Playlet, Presented at Colonial Theatre.

An act new to the patrons of the Colonial Theatre will be that of "Huckins Run", presented by Walsh, Lynch and company. It is a rural playlet which has been received with favor in the large cities, East and West. While filling an engagement at Buffalo recently Mr. Lynch, who plays the village squire, was approached by an elderly gentleman after the show, who claimed to be the original of the character portrayed. He said, "Boy, you have shown me as others have seen me. I am and always have been the mean cuss you played today. I thought that money was everything in this world, but after seeing your playlet, 'Huckins Run', I am going back home and try to make up for lost time. What money I have saved by my meanness I'll devote to making others see the folly of thinking that there are no others in the world but ourself." Complete scenery and effects are carried to give the act a correct setting.

Other features on the bill are "Robin", a well known comedy juggling jester, and Keegan and Healy, versatile vaudevillians. The pictura program will present the latest Pathe Weekly, No. 42, which is an interesting film; "The Coast Guard's sister", a production by the Edison company, with the principal scenes along the coast of Cornwall, England, and two of the latest Biograph comedies, entitled "The Suffragette Minstrels" and "Father's Chicken Dinner".

RUN OVER BUT NOT HURT.

Warren Travis's Exhibition With Automobile a Feat of Great Strength.

Warren Travis, who is appearing in a remarkable exhibition of feats of strength at Freebody Park this week, showed that a man can be run over by an automobile and not hurt in the least, if he is physically able to stand the strain and the conditions are just right. He accomplished the feat on Freebody street Wednesday afternoon at the close of the performance at the Park. The automobile weighs 3,200 pounds and had two men in it.

Mr. Travis was dressed in his stage costume and lay on the ground face downwards in front of the left wheels of the automobile, a small wooden block was used to run the first wheel on the body of the man, which passed over his buttocks, and when the block had been arranged the second wheel passed over. Mr. Travis arose unhurt, and to give a further exhibition of his strength and hardness of flesh allowed the wheel to pass over his bare hand, without leaving a bruise or a mark. In his exhibition at the Park Mr. Travis has lifted 45 men standing on a platform and done other feats of great strength, but the exhibition with the automobile was the most remarkable of all. The feat was witnessed by a considerable number of spectators.

NOVELTY AERIAL ACT.

"The Three Shorties" to Perform at Island Park.

A novelty aerial act is announced for the week of August 25, in the engagement of "The Three Shorties," who will give their performance on the open-air stage every afternoon and evening. Said to be experts in original acrobatic and grotesque stunts, these performers have been a big hit wherever they have appeared on the park circuit and it is expected that they will prove a potent attraction next week at this resort. The "Three Shorties" offer something new in the line of comedy and acrobatic work which has snap and is a big laugh maker.

The free dancing every afternoon and evening continues to enjoy large patronage at Island Park.

MR. OLMSTED'S ADDRESS ON NEWPORT'S NEEDS.

He is induced to come here by the executive committee of the Newport Improvement Association, but the meeting will not by any means be confined to members of that organization. The lecture will be of interest and profit to every one who owns real estate or is in any way interested in the beautifying and prosperity of the city.
